PRODUCT CHARACTERISTICS

Natural Beauty of Wood

Wood is a natural product with variations in grain, texture and color. As a result of natural conditions, some species will develop characteristics such as burls, pecks, pin burls, shakes, split knots and mineral streaks to name a few. In some instances, even the color will vary greatly within a single piece of wood or cabinet component. A certain amount of variations is allowed and, in fact, is desirable. Doors with these types of characteristics are not to be considered defective. Natural and light finishes will not cover any naturally occurring variation. In addition, all wood will age overtime deepening or mellowing its tone. These characteristics are not to be misinterpreted as defects. Wood is a product of nature- and as such will display natural characteristics and variances that are unique to each and every cut. These characteristics are an integral part of the charm and beauty of real wood.

Finish Process

1. All surfaces are machine-sanded.
2. Dust particles are removed before entering each spray machine.
3. Product enters an automated finish system where solvent-based pigment stain is applied.
4. Product is sealed and put through a pre-cure drying process.
5. Complete cure is done with slow bake process.
6. All edges of parts are hand-sanded before being put in a brush-sanding machine.
7. Final topcoat is applied and put through a pre-cure process followed by slow bake for final, thorough curing.
8. Clear finishes use a catalyzed varnish, and paint finishes use a post-catalyzed lacquer.
9. Products are inspected for defects, cleanliness and smoothness.
10. The front side of the products gets a stain coat, a sealer coat and final top coat. The backs of drawer fronts and doors get a stain coat and a sealer coat

Universal Design Specifications

What is ADA Compliance vs. Universal Design?

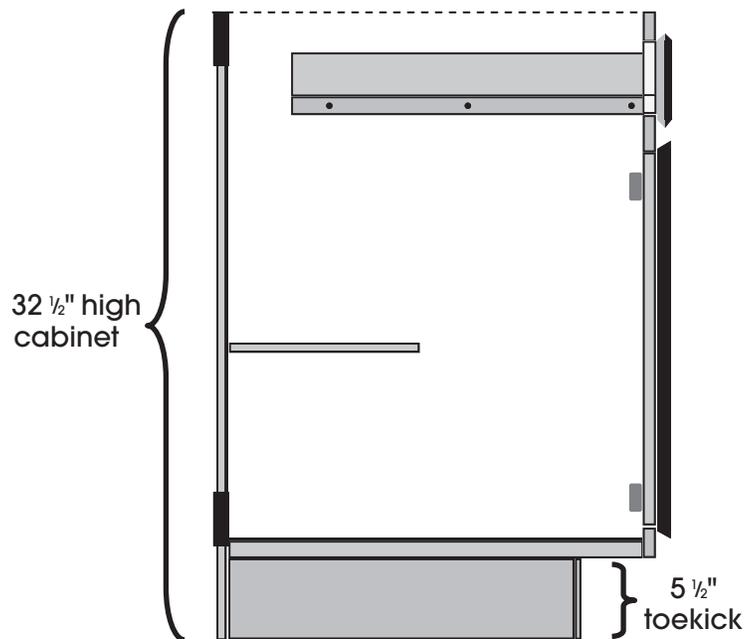

ADA compliant cabinets are designed to meet the needs of people with disabilities per the Americans with Disabilities Act. Builders Mark Cabinets offers a reduced height product that may be used in your ADA or UD design. Although product choice does need to be considered, designing for ADA and UD is not just about product, it's mainly about design principles and building codes. For more information about ADA regulations, please visit www.ADA.gov.

ADA compliance is based on the overall height of the workspace, clear floor space, knee clearance and toe clearance combined. All of these elements must be applied together and accurately for your design to be considered ADA compliant. Codes will vary and it is important for you to understand your local codes before starting your design.

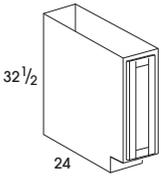

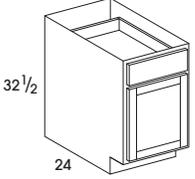

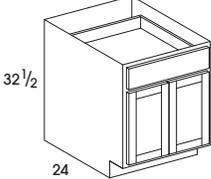

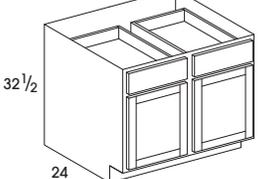

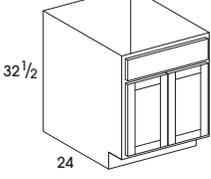

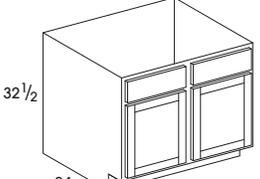

Universal Design, also known as Aging in Place Design, is a much broader concept. The goal is to create an environment that is usable, to the greatest extent possible, by people of any age or ability without the need for a special design or adaptation. In order to be considered UD, your design must consider the space needed for approach, reach, manipulation and overall use regardless of the user's body size, posture or mobility.

Universal Design Builders Mark cabinets are 32½" in height and have a 5½" toekick.

All other product specifications are the same as our standard cabinet.
