FORM 5: SPECIALTY FINISHES CABINETRY DISCLAIMER

Understanding Custom/Specialty Cabinet Finishes

Congratulations on your selection of a Legacy Crafted Specialty Finish! The purpose of this document is to make you more familiar with some of the terminology and techniques used to produce a Specialty Hand Finish on a piece of cabinetry. Our finishing process combines the best of modern technology with time-tested hand finishing techniques to produce beautiful, unique, and durable finishes.

Solid Color and Painted Cabinetry

Painted cabinets have certain inherent characteristics that must be expected. All natural wood cabinetry expands and contracts as temperature and humidity levels fluctuate. As a result, small hairline cracks may appear in joints of face frames, and door/drawer fronts. Some grain patterns and joint lines may be apparent under the painted finish as well. Lighter painted finishes should be expected to show slight color changes over time and will not be considered defective. Lighter finishes will also telegraph more of the woods natural characteristics.

What is a hand-rubbed glaze?

Glazing is the process of hand applying a finish that is meant to mimic the natural aging of a cabinet, molding, or accessory. This hand applied finish will give the impression of the natural patina that would normally take years to occur.

How is glazing done?

All glazing is applied by hand after the base color of the cabinet has been applied. The base color may be the natural color of the wood or a stain or paint, depending on the finish that has been selected. It is important to realize that the custom look of glazing is achieved through a special process. The glaze is applied and then hand-wiped, resulting in unique variances in coverage. The application of glaze will provide a shift in the color of the component as well as "hang-up" in profiles, open grain, and corners. Since the backs of doors are not glazed, the best way to see this shift in color is to look at the back of the sample which will represent the initial color of the component without the glaze.

Because each component is glazed individually, the color saturation ranges from even and consistent to varied and dramatic. After the glaze is applied, it is hand-wiped with a finishing cloth to remove a portion of the glaze. The glaze that remains on the door is called "hang-up" and will be more pronounced in grooves, corners, and areas where there is more pronounced and/or open wood grain in the cabinet. In addition, the combination of glaze color and base finish chosen will determine the amount of contrast that shows up in the finished product. For example, a Glacier painted door with Black glaze will demonstrate a more pronounced appearance than a Warm Stone painted door with Mocha glaze. This variation is not due to a difference in process or application, it is related to the amount of contrast between the base color and glaze color. The result is a one-of-a-kind look with the characteristics that make glazing so desirable.

Premium Finishes

Cool autumn nights, a stroll through the countryside and the crisp beauty of winter have all inspired our Premium Finishes. Available in select species, this collection of unique finishes gives homes an authentic, rustic look. The character grade appearances from our Premium Finishes are as beautiful as the essence it captures.

What is a Distressed/Rustic Cabinet Finish?

Legacy Crafted Cabinets distressing is a custom finish technique meant to create the appearance of the natural wear and tear on a cabinet. Cabinetry and components are hand-sanded and/or distressed at different stages throughout the finish process to create this look. Below are examples of techniques that may be employed to give a cabinet a distressed or rustic appearance.

Form #5

Vintage Package-The Vintage Package includes the following finishing techniques:

Sand-Thru

Sand-thru is the process of exposing the base color of a cabinet door, drawer front or component by hand-sanding the piece. The base color may be the natural wood grain of the piece or the base stain or paint color, depending on the finish that has been selected. Typically, sand-thru will be more pronounced or visible at the edges of a door or drawer front or the edge of a raised panel. Since Sand-Thru is achieved by hand, the frequency, location and severity will be unique.

Roundover

Roundover is a hand-sanding process meant to soften the corners and/or edges of cabinet components to give the impression of the natural wear that would happen to a cabinet. Roundover is very similar to Sand-thru, but is done more aggressively to actually soften or "knock-down" an edge or corner. As with Sand-Thru, Roundover will expose the base color of the cabinet, which could be the natural wood grain, a base stain, or paint. Since Sand-Thru and Roundover expose the base color, the more contrast between the base color and the top color, the greater the contrast in final appearance.

Cottage Package-The Cottage Package is similar to the Vintage Package in that it features both Sand-Thru and Roundover techniques. However, the distressing to the cabinet is more severe:

Sand-Thru

Sand-thru is the process of exposing the base color of a cabinet door, drawer front or component by hand-sanding the piece. The base color may be the natural wood grain of the piece or the base stain or paint color, depending on the finish that has been selected. Typically, sand-thru will be more pronounced or visible at the edges of a door or drawer front or the edge of a raised panel. Since Sand-Thru is achieved by hand, the frequency, location and severity will be unique.

Roundover

Roundover is very similar to Sand-thru, but is done more aggressively to actually soften or "knock-down" an edge or corner. As with Sand-Thru, Roundover will expose the base color of the cabinet, which could be the natural wood grain, a base stain, or paint. Since Sand-Thru and Roundover expose the base color, the more contrast between the base color and the top color, the greater the contrast in final appearance.

Form #5

Rustic Package-The Rustic Package includes Sand-Thru and Roundover (see above) in addition to the following techniques:

Worm Holes:

Our skilled artisans re-create the appearance of worm holes

Splits/Checks:

Small splits or checks are created in the component. Note: Splits and checks are cosmetic and will not impact the structural integrity of a door or drawer front

Dents/Dings:

Random dents and dings are hand applied to the piece

Rasping:

A file is used to alter the contours and/or edges.

As with other custom specialty finishes, the size, number, and location of these techniques will be random and unique to your cabinetry. Because of its unique characteristics, a specialty finish is quite different from other cabinetry finishes you may be familiar with.

Your satisfaction is important to Legacy Crafted Cabinets, and we want you to fully understand what to expect when ordering our product with a Custom Hand Finish. Neither Legacy Crafted Cabinets, nor your Dealer representative can be held responsible for the type and degree of variations that may actually occur with your cabinet order.

We recommend that you view a sample door in the finish combination you have selected prior to placing your order.

Please carefully consider the unique characteristics pertaining to Custom Specialty Finishes before placing an order. By educating yourself on what to expect with a Custom Specialty Finish, you will be able to enjoy this attractive product to its fullest potential.

Specialty Finish Agreement

Legacy Crafted Cabinets wants you to be fully satisfied with your specialty finished cabinetry. Please make sure you have read all specialty finish descriptions and understand the unique characteristics of the various specialty finishes available from Legacy Crafted Cabinets. After all of your questions have been answered, please check all that will apply to your order and sign the agreement at the bottom of this document.

_____ Paint

Painted wood finishes are different than stained finishes. Changes in humidity and temperature cause all wood products to expand and contract. The expansion and contraction will result in small hairline cracks and breaks at the joints of the stiles, rails, and seam lines of solid wood panels. The natural texture and grain patterns can also be evident through painted finishes. These are normal characteristics of painted wood finishes and will not be considered defective. In addition, painted finishes on oak and cherry may not completely fill open grain patterns.

_____ Glazing

All glazing techniques are applied by hand and will have variations in appearance due to varying wood grain patterns and the amount of hang-up that remains. This is part of the natural beauty of hand-glazing and will not be considered defective.

_____ Premium Finish

Available in select species, this collection of unique finishes gives homes an authentic, rustic look. The character grade appearances from our Premium Finishes are as beautiful as the essence it captures.

_____ Vintage, Cottage and Rustic Packages (Distressed Finishes)

Distressed cabinetry gets its beauty from the random nature in which they are hand-applied. All distressed packages are meant to create a random and unique pattern on every piece of cabinetry. No two pieces will be alike and the variation of each piece should be expected. In addition, the characteristics present on my cabinetry may be different from an individual door sample.

I have read and understand all of the above specialty finish descriptions and all of these characteristics have been explained to me. I understand that specialty finishes are hand-applied and that every piece and component will be unique. I will not hold Legacy Crafted Cabinetry nor the Dealer responsible if these characteristics are present.

NATURAL BEAUTY OF HARDWOOD CABINETS

Natural beauty and variations are found in all hardwood lumber species. Each tree has different characteristics which produce unique color and grain patterns that contribute to the natural beauty of cabinetry.

Each hardwood species is exposed to varying natural factors which contribute to the development of the color and grain. Hardwoods exist in harsh environments where natural occurring traumas effect how trees grow. High winds, temperature fluctuations, soil conditions and even proximity to other trees create these unique color and grain variations. As a result, each tree and the lumber they produce are unique.

CHARACTERISTICS OF WOOD

Each hardwood species has its own characteristics as well. The four most common species used in cabinetry and their unique characteristics are outlined in greater detail below.

Red Oak: Red oak is a solid, open grained hardwood. The color of red oak varies from light tan and pink to medium red and brown. The open grain pattern can produce close-knit and vertical grain patterns as well as wider arch patterns. Red oak can contain small mineral deposits as well as pin knots.

Maple: Maple has a smooth texture with predominantly tight close grain patterns, but can produce grains with varied density. Maple is generally creamy white in color but can vary from bright white to light pink and reddish brown. Maple may contain small mineral streaks that are light brown and even black.

Cherry: Cherry is rich in color and smooth in texture. Color is generally pinkish-brown, but will also demonstrate white, green, red and grey. Cherry naturally darkens and “mellows” with age. This change generally occurs gradually in the first 6 months and is more pronounced on natural finishes and lighter color stains. Exposure to direct sunlight will accelerate this process. Mineral streaks, pitch pockets, pin knots and sapwood are natural acceptable characteristics of cherry.

Hickory: Hickory can vary dramatically in color and grain within a single piece of wood. Hickory has bold varying grain patterns giving it a rustic appearance. Color can vary from white to dark brown. Burl, mineral streaks and small sound knots are typical.

HUMIDITY

As wood ages, it continues to interact with its environment, responding to changes in moisture and temperature much as it did when it was part of a living tree. As humidity and temperatures increase, wood will expand in size. As humidity and temperatures decrease, wood will shrink. Only in a completely stable environment will wood not shrink or grow.

Maintaining a completely stable environment is nearly impossible in most homes. In general, temperatures and humidity levels cycle throughout the year in response to changes in the natural environment. Even heating and air conditioning systems do not completely counter this natural cycle. The best that can be done is to tighten the range of fluctuation.

Legacy Crafted Cabinets recommends temperature and humidity ranges for its products be maintained between 60-80 degrees and 35-50% humidity. The more consistent these levels can be maintained through the seasons, the less susceptible the wood will be to movement. However, some fluctuation is inevitable and will cause all wood components to change as these levels move up and down. While our product is engineered to compensate and allow for these movements, visible signs may still be evident. The most common results of this movement are visible joints, loosening of door/drawer pulls/hardware, changes in appearance of center panels, and reveals between butt doors changing. Joints where stiles and rails meet may become more evident at different times of the annual cycle. You may even be able to feel a joint that was once flush, have a slight uneven feel to it. This is a normal aspect of expansion and contraction of wood and the strength of the joint is not affected. This will be most noticeable at the intersection of stiles and rails of doors and face frames.

In cooler dryer times of the year you may notice that your door/drawer pulls become loose. This is a result of the overall thickness of the door or drawer front shrinking as it gives off moisture. Tightening the screws once during the 1st winter cycle will usually solve the issue.

All wood fiber expands and contract in width much more than length. In winter time, when environmental conditions are much colder and dryer, the biggest visual result of this can be the shrinkage of center panels. This is much more likely to occur in solid wood raised panel doors than it is in a flat panel door with a plywood center panel. This characteristic is most likely to occur during the 1st heating cycle to which your cabinetry is exposed. In many instances, once your home goes through a complete heating and cooling cycle, the wood will reach an equilibrium, particularly if temperature and humidity levels are maintained as consistently as possible. If it continues to change seasonally, the best practice is to try and maintain as consistent a level of temperature and humidity as possible. Digital monitors that show real time temperature and humidity levels are readily available at many stores.

Again, since wood expands much more significantly in width than length, you may also notice that the distance or reveals between cabinets with butt doors change throughout the seasons. Doors that did not rub or bind in fall or spring, may rub during the summer. The hinges we use allow for this to be adjusted seasonally.

CARE AND CLEANING

Legacy Crafted Cabinets uses premium quality finishes from Sherwin-Williams. Each finish is carefully applied to give your cabinet the durability and protection to stand up to many years of use and enjoyment. Proper care and cleaning is necessary to maintain this finish.

Wood Finishes:

- Dusting: Dust cabinets frequently using a soft lint-free cloth. You can dampen your cloth with water or a spray-type dust remover.
- Spills: Use a clean dry cloth to pick-up spills as quickly as possible. Use a mild soap if necessary. Wipe dry with a clean dry cloth.
- Cleaning: Remove fingerprints, cooking fumes, smoke residue, etc., with a non-wax containing polish or mild soap. IMPORTANT: Do not use cleaning products that contain wax, ammonia, silicone, or abrasives. Used over a prolonged period of time these cleaners may cause damage to the finish. In addition, do not use scouring pads, steel wool, or soap pads as these harsh abrasives will permanently mar the finish.

Cabinet Interior/Exterior:

- Shelves, Cabinet Interiors/Exteriors: Clean the exterior and interior of the cabinet box using a damp, soft lint-free cloth. Mild soap may be used if necessary. Wipe dry with a clean cloth if necessary.

Glass Doors:

- Glass: Any commercially available glass cleaner may be used to clean the glass. Glass may be cleaned while mounted on the door or removed. While cleaning mounted glass take special care to avoid overspray of products containing ammonia. It is recommended that glass cleaner be sprayed onto cloth or paper towel, rather than directly onto glass.

General Information

UV Effects:

- Ultra Violet Light: The UV rays in natural sunlight may affect the color and appearance of your cabinetry. Legacy Crafted Cabinets utilizes UV inhibitors to all cabinets to minimize the effect of UV rays. Cabinets in direct sunlight will change more dramatically than those with limited exposure to direct sunlight.

Self-Cleaning Ovens:

- Self-Cleaning Ovens: Self-cleaning ovens generate intense heat during the cleaning process. To minimize the potential harmful effects of this process, it is recommended that all doors and or/drawers in adjacent cabinets be removed during the cleaning cycle. Never allow oven cleaner to contact any part of your cabinets.

Regular Care and Cleaning

Always use a cotton cloth or non-abrasive sponge.

Option 1: Wipe with a damp cloth or sponge with mild dish soap.

Option 2: Wipe with a damp cloth or sponge using a 50/50 mix of water and Simple Green®.
(Simple Green works well on oily or tacky surfaces.)

Cleaning of Stains (Infrequent Care)

Always use a cotton cloth or non-abrasive sponge.

Step 1: Using a damp cloth or sponge with a 50/50 mix of water and Simple Green®, scrub lightly for 10 to 20 strokes. This should remove most stains.

If stain persists, move on to Step 2 and if necessary, Step 3.

Step 2: Using a damp cloth or sponge with Buckeye Workout®, standard Fantastik® (S.C. Johnson), or standard Formula 409® (The Clorox Co.), lightly wipe for 10 - 20 strokes. Buckeye Workout is a commercial cleaner and readily available from a local distributor - call: 314.291.1900.

Note: Buckeye Workout® contains water & propylene glycol phenyl ether.

Step 3: Place a cloth or sponge damp with 70% Isopropyl Alcohol on top of the stain for 30 minutes. After 30 minutes, remove the cloth or sponge and wipe. This should remove makeup, ball-point ink, and other stubborn stains. If stain persists, repeat Step 3 until stain is removed.

Disinfecting 3D Laminate Surfaces

A mixture of 10% bleach, 90% water can be used as a disinfectant on most 3D laminate surfaces. Before using the mixture on an entire surface, be sure to test it on a non-visual spot.

Cleaners to Avoid

- Any abrasive cleaner
- Most solvent based cleaners and harsh chemicals such as sink & toilet bowl cleaners
- Any cleaner in combination with a brush
- Cleaners containing ammonia
- Baking soda

If a harsh chemical is spilled on a thermofoil surface, wipe it up immediately. Then wash the surface with soapy water and rinse several times.

CARE AND CLEANING - METRO COLLECTION

Special Notes for Metro Gloss

Regular Care and Handling

- Leave protective film in place until the project is complete.

The high gloss surface becomes more scratch resistant over the first few days after the protective film has been removed. This process can be accelerated by lightly polishing the surface immediately after the protective film is removed using Ultra-Gloss Superpolish + DGS, Novus 1 Polish, or Plexus Plastic Cleaner with a clean micro-fiber cloth.

Ultra-Gloss Superpolish + DGS can be purchased from SSI North America. Call 973-598-0152 to order.

See websites below to order the other care products.

www.novuspolish.com

Cleaning

Best results will be achieved using wet micro-fiber cloths or chamois with mild soap and water. Never dry wipe the finish. Applying Ultra-Gloss Superpolish + DGS, Novus 1 Polish, or Plexus Plastic Cleaner on a weekly basis will maintain the finish in an optimum condition.

Avoid harsh household cleaners and abrasives. Always check the active ingredients of your cleaners to be sure there are no potentially harmful chemicals. Do not use acetone, chloroform, benzene, ammonia, thinners, caustic soda, toluene, xylene, dichloro-methane, amylacetate, glacial acetate acid, butyl alcohol, butyl acetate, cellusolve, cresols/phenols, ethylacetate, chlorinated solvents, halogenated solvents, methyl alcohol, methyl ethyl keytone. Legacy Crafted Cabinets is not responsible for any damage done by abrasive cleaning products or procedures.

Other Cleaners to Avoid

- Any abrasive cleaner.
- Paper towels, brushes, scourers or scrapers.
- Most solvent based cleaners and harsh chemicals such as sink & toilet bowl cleaners.

FINISHES - GLAZING

FEATHER specify glaze color

15% Upcharge - Available on All Species-Specify Color

Black

Mocha

Glazing, the process of hand-applying a finish, is meant to mimic the natural aging of a cabinet, molding or accessory. This hand-applied finish will give the impression of the natural patina that would normally take years to occur.

All glazing is done by hand after the base color of the cabinet, either the natural wood, stain or paint, has been applied. The glaze is applied and then hand-wiped, resulting in unique variances in coverage.

Because each component is glazed individually, color saturation ranges from even and consistent to varied and dramatic. After being wiped off with a finishing cloth, the glaze that remains on the door is called "hang-up." This remaining glaze will be more noticeable in grooves, corners and areas where there is more open wood grain. The result is a one-of-a-kind look with the characteristics that make glazing so desirable.

FINISHES - DISTRESSED FINISHES

VINTAGE

Vintage Package 15% upcharge

Not available on Astoria, Metro and Strata

The Vintage Package is a distressing technique that includes both sand-through and round-over treatments. The result is a cabinet that appears to be worn with an antiqued appearance.

- Sand-Through: A process where the final finish of the cabinet is slightly removed through sanding so that layers of stain and wood are exposed.
- Round-Over: A process by which the corners of the cabinet are sanded to a smoother finish to eliminate any sharp contours.

The Following Components Receive the Vintage Package:

-Drawer Fronts

-Doors

-Crown Molding

-Under Cabinet Molding

-Legs

-Corbels

-Feet

-Decorative End Panels (DEP's)

-Decorative Door Ends (DDE's)

-Base

-Chair Rail

-Mirror Frames

Special Note: Center panels of 5-piece shaker, 7-piece shaker, and flat panel picture frame doors do not have sand-through and round-over applied to them. Sand-through and round-over are applied to door stiles and rails only.

The Following Components Do Not Receive the Vintage Package:

COTTAGE Cottage Package 15% upcharge

Not available on Astoria, Metro and Strata

The Cottage Package is similar to the Vintage Package in that the distressing technique includes both sand-through and round-over treatments. The difference is that the distressing is more severe and pronounced, resulting in a cabinet that appears to have an aged and worn appearance.

- Sand-Through: A process where the final finish of the cabinet is slightly removed through sanding so that layers of stain and wood are exposed.
- Round-Over: A process by which the corners of the cabinet are sanded to a smoother finish to eliminate any sharp contours.

The Following Components Receive the Cottage Package:

- Drawer Fronts
- Doors
- Crown Molding
- Under Cabinet Molding
- Legs
- Corbels
- Feet
- Decorative End Panels (DEP's)
- Decorative Door Ends (DDE's)
- Base
- Chair Rail
- Mirror Frames

Special Note: Center panels of 5-piece shaker, 7-piece shaker, and flat panel picture frame doors do not have sand-through and round-over applied to them. Sand-through and round-over are applied to door stiles and rails only.

The Rustic Package is a distressing technique that includes Sand-Through and Round-Overs with Wormholes, Rasping, and Dings/Dents/Splits. The result is a completely custom cabinet that appears to have been worn and weathered.

- Rasping: A process where a file is used on edges of the cabinet to alter the contours and edges.
- Wormholes: A process where sharp hand tools are used in various areas to give the appearance of small holes in the wood.
- Dings/Dents: A process where various tools are used to physically distress the wood in a completely random fashion.
- Split: A process where the wood is physically distressed in order to simulate a natural split in the grain.

The Following Components Receive the Rustic Package:

-Drawer Fronts

-Decorative End Panels (DEP's)

XOI27SC 600/395	4.0, 115V	6" Round

XOI27SC comes set to operate at 600 CFM from the factory with Code Compliance Control (CCC)

Reprogramming is accomplished quickly and requires no special tools or additional parts.

Once reprogrammed, the airflow rate is limited to a maximum of 395 CFM, below the 400 CFM cap that most local codes impose, eliminating the need for additional controls.

Reprogramming also disables the Power Boost function. After conversion, the installer affixes a label stating the unit has been converted to 395 CFM max. Once done, the unit cannot be changed back.

Understanding Custom/Specialty Cabinet Finishes

Congratulations on your selection of a Legacy Crafted Specialty Finish! The purpose of this document is to make you more familiar with some of the terminology and techniques used to produce a Specialty Hand Finish on a piece of cabinetry. Our finishing process combines the best of modern technology with time-tested hand finishing techniques to produce beautiful, unique, and durable finishes.

Solid Color and Painted Cabinetry

Painted cabinets have certain inherent characteristics that must be expected. All natural wood cabinetry expands and contracts as temperature and humidity levels fluctuate. As a result, small hairline cracks may appear in joints of face frames, and door/drawer fronts. Some grain patterns and joint lines may be apparent under the painted finish as well. Lighter painted finishes should be expected to show slight color changes over time and will not be considered defective. Lighter finishes will also telegraph more of the woods natural characteristics.

What is a hand-rubbed glaze?

Glazing is the process of hand applying a finish that is meant to mimic the natural aging of a cabinet, molding, or accessory. This hand applied finish will give the impression of the natural patina that would normally take years to occur.

How is glazing done?

All glazing is applied by hand after the base color of the cabinet has been applied. The base color may be the natural color of the wood or a stain or paint, depending on the finish that has been selected. It is important to realize that the custom look of glazing is achieved through a special process. The glaze is applied and then hand-wiped, resulting in unique variances in coverage. The application of glaze will provide a shift in the color of the component as well as “hang-up” in profiles, open grain, and corners. Since the backs of doors are not glazed, the best way to see this shift in color is to look at the back of the sample which will represent the initial color of the component without the glaze.

Because each component is glazed individually, the color saturation ranges from even and consistent to varied and dramatic. After the glaze is applied, it is hand-wiped with a finishing cloth to remove a portion of the glaze. The glaze that remains on the door is called “hang-up” and will be more pronounced in grooves, corners, and areas where there is more pronounced and/or open wood grain in the cabinet. In addition, the combination of glaze color and base finish chosen will determine the amount of contrast that shows up in the finished product. For example, a Glacier painted door with Black glaze will demonstrate a more pronounced appearance than a Warm Stone painted door with Mocha glaze. This variation is not due to a difference in process or application, it is related to the amount of contrast between the base color and glaze color. The result is a one-of-a-kind look with the characteristics that make glazing so desirable.

Premium Finishes

Cool autumn nights, a stroll through the countryside and the crisp beauty of winter have all inspired our Premium Finishes. Available in select species, this collection of unique finishes gives homes an authentic, rustic look. The character grade appearances from our Premium Finishes are as beautiful as the essence it captures.

What is a Distressed/Rustic Cabinet Finish?

Legacy Crafted Cabinets distressing is a custom finish technique meant to create the appearance of the natural wear and tear on a cabinet. Cabinetry and components are hand-sanded and/or distressed at different stages throughout the finish process to create this look. Below are examples of techniques that may be employed to give a cabinet a distressed or rustic appearance.

Vintage Package-The Vintage Package includes the following finishing techniques:Sand-Thru

Sand-thru is the process of exposing the base color of a cabinet door, drawer front or component by hand-sanding the piece. The base color may be the natural wood grain of the piece or the base stain or paint color, depending on the finish that has been selected. Typically, sand-thru will be more pronounced or visible at the edges of a door or drawer front or the edge of a raised panel. Since Sand-Thru is achieved by hand, the frequency, location and severity will be unique.

Roundover

Roundover is a hand-sanding process meant to soften the corners and/or edges of cabinet components to give the impression of the natural wear that would happen to a cabinet. Roundover is very similar to Sand-thru, but is done more aggressively to actually soften or “knock-down” an edge or corner. As with Sand-Thru, Roundover will expose the base color of the cabinet, which could be the natural wood grain, a base stain, or paint. Since Sand-Thru and Roundover expose the base color, the more contrast between the base color and the top color, the greater the contrast in final appearance.

Cottage Package-The Cottage Package is similar to the Vintage Package in that it features both Sand-Thru and Roundover techniques. However, the distressing to the cabinet is more severe:Sand-Thru

Sand-thru is the process of exposing the base color of a cabinet door, drawer front or component by hand-sanding the piece. The base color may be the natural wood grain of the piece or the base stain or paint color, depending on the finish that has been selected. Typically, sand-thru will be more pronounced or visible at the edges of a door or drawer front or the edge of a raised panel. Since Sand-Thru is achieved by hand, the frequency, location and severity will be unique.

Roundover

Roundover is a hand-sanding process meant to soften the corners and/or edges of cabinet components to give the impression of the natural wear that would happen to a cabinet. Roundover is very similar to Sand-thru, but is done more aggressively to actually soften or “knock-down” an edge or corner. As with Sand-Thru, Roundover will expose the base color of the cabinet, which could be the natural wood grain, a base stain, or paint. Since Sand-Thru and Roundover expose the base color, the more contrast between the base color and the top color, the greater the contrast in final appearance.

Rustic Package-The Rustic Package includes Sand-Thru and Roundover (see above) in addition to the following techniques:

Worm Holes:

Our skilled artisans re-create the appearance of worm holes

Splits/Checks:

Small splits or checks are created in the component. Note: Splits and checks are cosmetic and will not impact the structural integrity of a door or drawer front

Dents/Dings:

Random dents and dings are hand applied to the piece

Rasping:

A file is used to alter the contours and/or edges.

As with other custom specialty finishes, the size, number, and location of these techniques will be random and unique to your cabinetry. Because of its unique characteristics, a specialty finish is quite different from other cabinetry finishes you may be familiar with.

Your satisfaction is important to Legacy Crafted Cabinets, and we want you to fully understand what to expect when ordering our product with a Custom Hand Finish. Neither Legacy Crafted Cabinets, nor your Dealer representative can be held responsible for the type and degree of variations that may actually occur with your cabinet order.

We recommend that you view a sample door in the finish combination you have selected prior to placing your order.

Please carefully consider the unique characteristics pertaining to Custom Specialty Finishes before placing an order. By educating yourself on what to expect with a Custom Specialty Finish, you will be able to enjoy this attractive product to its fullest potential.

Specialty Finish Agreement

Legacy Crafted Cabinets wants you to be fully satisfied with your specialty finished cabinetry. Please make sure you have read all specialty finish descriptions and understand the unique characteristics of the various specialty finishes available from Legacy Crafted Cabinets. After all of your questions have been answered, please check all that will apply to your order and sign the agreement at the bottom of this document.

_____ Paint

Painted wood finishes are different than stained finishes. Changes in humidity and temperature cause all wood products to expand and contract. The expansion and contraction will result in small hairline cracks and breaks at the joints of the stiles, rails, and seam lines of solid wood panels. The natural texture and grain patterns can also be evident through painted finishes. These are normal characteristics of painted wood finishes and will not be considered defective. In addition, painted finishes on oak and cherry may not completely fill open grain patterns.

_____ Glazing

All glazing techniques are applied by hand and will have variations in appearance due to varying wood grain patterns and the amount of hang-up that remains. This is part of the natural beauty of hand-glazing and will not be considered defective.

_____ Premium Finish

Available in select species, this collection of unique finishes gives homes an authentic, rustic look. The character grade appearances from our Premium Finishes are as beautiful as the essence it captures.

_____ Vintage, Cottage and Rustic Packages (Distressed Finishes)

Distressed cabinetry gets its' beauty from the random nature in which they are hand-applied. All distressed packages are meant to create a random and unique pattern on every piece of cabinetry. No two pieces will be alike and the variation of each piece should be expected. In addition, the characteristics present on my cabinetry may be different from an individual door sample.

I have read and understand all of the above specialty finish descriptions and all of these characteristics have been explained to me. I understand that specialty finishes are hand-applied and that every piece and component will be unique. I will not hold Legacy Crafted Cabinetry nor the Dealer responsible if these characteristics are present.
